Here's why the Indaba is a great opportunity to promote your business and projects.

The February 2008 Cape Town Mining Indaba will bring together international mining executives, legislators and mine ministers from 25 countries, property owners and the global investment community to build mining investment in Africa. The Indaba is known to attract long term investment capital to mining projects in African countries.

It is Africa's most important mining event and the world's leading gathering of global policy makers and project finance. The Indaba has raised billions of dollars and introduced the international investment community to mining interests throughout the African continent.

Have you got your hand outs/brochures ready for Indaba. Don't wait for the January rush. Get Venmyn Interaction to draw up effective technical Fact Sheets to assist in promoting your projects at this world renowned event. Give Tanya, Evelyn or Mariaan a call today on 011-783-9903.
